

THE UNIVERSITY OF AUCKLAND ENGLISH LANGUAGE ACADEMY

English Pathway for Postgraduate Studies (EPPS) PROMOTION

EPPS is suitable for students who have a conditional offer of place from the University of Auckland for postgraduate studies and an IELTS band of no more than 0.5 away from their required band. EPPS is a 10-week direct entry English language pathway to the University of Auckland for postgraduate studies, combining advanced Academic English with English for Specific Academic Purposes. Students who successfully complete EPPS with the required grade are not required to take IELTS or any other similar test.

EPPS Entry Requirements:

- A conditional offer of place from the University of Auckland for postgraduate studies*
- Compulsory to have an Academic IELTS score with a minimum of 0.5 band from the required score, with no less than 6.0 overall and 6.0 in the Writing band (unless stated otherwise by the University). The result must have been issued within 12 months of the EPPS commencement date.

*Note: Students who have already applied to the University of Auckland but have not yet received a Conditional Offer should include a letter from the University of Auckland confirming both their application and application number. On receiving this information, the ELA will issue an EPPS Offer of Place to enable student visa preparation. The ELA will also contact the University of Auckland Admissions Office, where applications will be given priority. Finally, the ELA will issue a new EPPS Offer of Place if a Conditional Offer is received from the University.
